Spreeha at a Glance

Why Spreeha?
An estimated 3.4 million people live in 5000 slums in Dhaka, Bangladesh. Slum residents cannot fulfill their basic needs like food, clothing, shelter, education and healthcare.

Spreeha strives to break the cycle of poverty for underprivileged people by providing healthcare, education, and skills training. Spreeha is currently working in the slums of Dhaka, and the Rohingya refugee camps in Cox’s Bazar, Bangladesh.

Spreeha is a Washington based 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. With more than 25,000 in our family in the slums, our programs are designed to empower underprivileged people to improve their quality of life and help them break out of the cycle of poverty.

Spreeha Local Programs

Spreeha Diversity Academy (SDA). Spreeha strongly believes in the power of languages in creating empathy and global awareness. In Spreeha Pathshala, under Spreeha Diversity Academy, Bengali language classes are currently being offered to kids, with hopes to expand to offer classes in multiple languages in the future.

Spreeha Kitchen is based on Spreeha’s core value of empathy. Spreeha partners with local non-profits and community members in supporting the community’s homeless people by serving warm meals.

Spreeha Youth/Kids’ Club engages children in various youth activities to promote leadership and creative skills.

Spreeha Caring builds on Spreeha’s core value of empathy and partnership. It encourages local community members to engage in supporting various community activities.

Spreeha Holiday Drive is geared towards helping local children during the holiday season.

Spreeha Community Outreach is aimed to build a strong relationship with the community through various events and activities.

Spreeha strives to break the cycle of poverty for underprivileged people by providing healthcare, education, and skills training. From 2013 to June 2018, we have served 79,338 people in the slum communities.

Support for Rohingyas
In 2017, over 700,000 Rohingya refugees fled Myanmar and took shelter in the refugee camps in Cox’s Bazar, Bangladesh. Spreeha’s work in the Rohingya refugee camps builds on its core values of empathy, creativity, lean methodology, continuous learning, and partnership. The objective is to create longer term positive impact by providing the refugee community with healthcare, early childhood development spaces, counselling, and community awareness.

In most cases, those being served were pregnant and rape victims or children who have been orphaned. Spreeha’s early childhood development centers aim to create a safe and supportive learning environment for the refugee children with pre-school education. Spreeha strives to create lasting impacts on the lives of those who are in the most difficult of situations.

Spreeha started serving this community in late 2017. As of June of 2018, Spreeha has served more than 18,000 people.
